		Justin Fields	Fields CHI $8,400 $7,900 DET 52.5 27 28 1		1	21.2		1.00	72.21	L	CASH	Fields has been a relevation in the second half of the season and gets a Detroit secondary that ranks last in fantasy points allowed to QBs. He's expensive but his rushing upside is worth it.
		Aaron Rodgers	GB $7,100 $6,000 MIN 47.5 15 24 5		15.1		0.46	5.47	L	STRONG	I'm not a Rodgers guy and haven't used him often this season, but Minnesota's secondary has been so bad that you can't ignore him at this price.
C)B	Jared Goff	DET	$7,400	$5,600	СНІ	52.5	7	29	8	18.56		0.53	4.40	L	CASH	Goff is considerably less than Fields and thus will probably be my cash game guy. He's been lights out at home this year and the Bears secondary is next to last in pass DVOA. The Lions are implied for the most points of any team this weekend and for good reason as the Bears defense has been horrid.
		Gardner Minshew II	PHI	$7,500	$5,500	NO	42	6	11	20	7.46		#DIV/0!	#DIV/0!	М	GPP	There's still a chance Hurts plays this weekend, but if Minshew gets the call he proved last week he can move this Eagles offense and he's too cheap to be at the healm of such a talented group.
		Mike White	NYJ	$7,000	$5,400	SEA	42.5	23	21	11	20.33		0.47	3.00	М	GPP	White is a compelling punt this week as he's back for the Jets and was playing well for them before his injury.

		Christian McCaffrey	SF	$9,500	$9,000	LV	42.5	16	20	59	7	19.40	60.00%	21.34	L	CASH	CMC's volume is what we want for cash games and his receptions give him a solid weekly floor. Vegas is pretty poor against opposing backs and C-Mac has been fed touches since Purdy took over this offense.
		Saquon Barkley	NYG	$9,200	$8,000	IND	39	9	15	72	5	22.53	55.00%	19.25	L	GPP	Barkley has been great all year, even in tough match ups, so I think he has a lot of upside here tho I respect the Indy defense, too.
		James Conner	ARI	$8,000	$7,200	ATL	42	27	23	84	16	17.50	46.70%	15.85	L	STRONG	Conner has been the most productive player in this Arizona offense down the stretch and while this team isn't going anywhere, they do have a good matchup against Atlanta this week for Conner and the run game.
	в	Dalvin Cook	MIN	$8,300	$7,000	GB	47.5	26	32	80	9	18.67	58.80%	15.85	L	STRONG	Cook could be flying under the radar a bit this week. He hasn't really had any huge weeks this season, but this is an elite spot against a bad Packers run defense and he's far too cheap on DraftKings for his potential. PIVOTI
		Rhamondre Stevenson	NE	$7,000	$6,800	MIA	41	21	9	62	10	#N/A	64.30%	15.72	м	GPP	Rhambo has been a bit hit-and-miss the last few weeks but we know the talent and opportunity are there, it's just a matter of New England being able to keep drives going. He projects well, but I don't trust him enough for cash games.
		Travis Etienne Jr.	JAX	$7,700	$6,400	нои	43.5	19	24	71	1	15.60	48.90%	12.78	м	CASH	ETN is in a great spot on paper, though I am worried a bit about his workload since Jacksonville doesn't have to win this game and does he get pulled if they go up big at any point?
		Tyler Allgeier	ATL	$6,700	$5,300	ARI	42	4	27	81	6	12.93	28.90%	9.46	м	CASH	These last two guys are my favorite point-per-dollar. Allgeier has been awesome the last two weeks and is in a smash spot against the Cardinals. I look for Atlanta to feed him and focus on the run game as they have all year.

Meyers is coming off a solid week and is the clear top target for Mac Jones in this passing game. The Dolphins secondary has proven it can be picked apart at times, though I don't view this as the safest of plays due to the volatility of NE's offense.

I don't view him as a must-play this week as the match-up isn't all that great on paper, but he's still a fine pay-up for tournaments. The Sun God is a cash play for me this week based on the matchup and elite game environment. He should be worth every penny against the Bears as long as Detroit continues to target him heavily. (DK only) FanDuel left this game off their slate when it got flexed to the 4:00 slot instead of prime time. I love Allen's weekly floor with the huge target volume. Lockett is back this week but there's no way of knowing how effective he will be. Metcalf should continue to be heavily targeted by Geno and can win tough matchups. Godwin has been the most reliable option for Tampa down the stretch and he brings a high target floor weekly as Brady likes to feed him in the short passing game. Kirk is always a guy I end up with some as he's solid red zone threat often overlooked in the mid-tier of pricing. Wilson got a price cut and it might be time to buy back in now that Mike White is back at QB. Lazard is a core cash play for me as I think Watson is likely to be out, meaning more targets for Lazard and Romeo Doubs. Meyers is coming off a solid week and is the clear top target for Mac Jones in this passing game. The Dolphins secondary has proven it can be picked apart at times, though I don't view this as the safest of plays due to the volatility of NEs offense. Wentz is back in at QB and he really featured Samuel earlier in the season. I think we see a lot of targets for Samuel again in the short passing game.
